THIRTEENTH YEAR. NO. 67.

EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 25, 1897.

TWO CENTS

WITH NON-UNION MEN,

Pittsburg Operators Say They Will Start Their Mines.

CONFERENCE ENDED IN FAILURE.

President Hatchford Declares the Attempt to Run the Mines Will Prove Futile and That the Strikers Will Win. Labor Representatives Meet.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 25.—Coal operators of the Pittsburg district are going to operate their mines at once. Within a week notices will be posted in conspicuous places about the various pits of the district notifying the strikers that they can return to work if they care to. Such an announcement will be given in due time, and if it does not bring the miners to their work employes will be engaged from other parts.

Such is the policy of the operators of the Pittsburg district, as a result of the conference with the head officials of the United Mine Workers of America. No compromise was reached and there was but one thing left for the mine-owners—to start their plants without the aid of organized labor. From the standpoint of the two sides of the controversy the status of the whole situation up to date is as follows:

President Hatchford of the United Mine Workers of America says that the last straw was broken at the conference; that the operators cannot do anything but give in to their employes; that the strike will be kept up until the wages demanded, 69 cents per ton, is paid.

The official statement of the operators is a diplomatic supplement to the strike. It is intended to give a whole lot of information, but few facts can be found in any of the paragraphs. It tells of the meeting and its sad ending, and predicts that the mines can be run without further parleying.

The conference ended in failure.

The miners' officials would not recede from their original position to settle by arbitration and to start the mines at the 69-cent rate. The operators offered to divide the difference between the 54 and 69-cent rates, making the price at which the mines should be started 61½ cents, but this was rejected, and then additional propositions were made. One was to start the mines without fixing any price for 30 days, and then pay the rate agreed upon by a board of arbitrators.

This was also refused by the miners' representatives, as they said they had been fooled too often to trust the operators again. They declined to work for a month, giving the operators the output for that length of time without knowing what wages were to be paid.

A proposition was then made to operate the mines for ten days without fixing a price and allow a board of arbitrators to fix the price for that time.

President Hatchford insisted that nothing but a 69-cent rate could possibly be accepted. The operators were firm, but the miners were equally determined, and every argument of the mine-owners was met by the miners' leaders. Neither side would concede another point, and it was decided to end the conference.

Representatives from 35 labor organizations in Western Pennsylvania met last night at Knights of Labor hall and adopted resolutions advocating a general uprising of the workmen in a peaceable manner and a general strike, if the injunction of the courts relative to the miners' encampments at Turtle Creek are continued.

Miners Out at DuBois, Pa.

DuBois, Pa., Aug. 25.—The Lancaster and London mines, at this place, have quit work, notwithstanding that they decided at a meeting held to continue. The agitators from the Pittsburg region have been working unceasingly for a week to get the men out, and have succeeded, in the face of the fact that a majority were opposed to striking.

FAURE'S VISIT TO RUSSIA.

Placed a Wreath on the Tomb of the Late Czar.

St. PETERSBURG, Aug. 25.—After placing a wreath and a golden olive branch on the tomb of the late czar, Alexander III, in the cathedral, President Faure drove across the Neva and laid the cornerstone of the new French hospital. The president afterward visited the house which Peter the Great built in 1703, on the bank of the Neva, in order to superintend the construction of St. Petersburg.

The president then traversed the garden leading to the riverside, where the czar was waiting for him in a launch. M. Faure embarked in this vessel, which had the Russian and French flags flying from her stern, and crossed the Neva. The imperial and presidential party landed on the other side of the river and took part in the ceremony of laying the foundation stone of the new Trotsky bridge.

A NEW DIVORCE BILL.

American Bar Association May Urge District of Columbia Law.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 25.—At the meeting of the uniform law commission of the American Bar association John C. Richberg, Esq., of Chicago, as chairman of a special committee appointed for the purpose, reported a draft of a divorce bill for adoption in all the states, to be submitted to the National Bar association.

If the association approves of it the members will urge its adoption by their different state legislatures. The bill is modeled after the divorce law in force in the District of Columbia, which of necessity was drawn by committees of congress, which represents the entire country.

QUAY AGAIN IN CONTROL.

Colonel Clayton McMichael Nominated For Treasurer of Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 25.—For the first time since the control of the Republican organization in Philadelphia was wrested from Senator Quay by the defection which prevented the nomination for the mayoralty of Boies Penrose, now United States senator, a regular Republican convention representing every faction in this city has nominated with practical unanimity a pronounced Quay partisan by naming Colonel Clayton McMichael, proprietor of the Philadelphia North American and a director of the Associated Press, who is one of the recognized Quay leaders in Eastern Pennsylvania, as the candidate for city treasurer.

The senators from Philadelphia and members of congress interested had united in naming Colonel McMichael to succeed the Democratic postmaster in Philadelphia and he said that he entered the contest for the city treasurer only because the friends of all factions united upon him to perfect the Republican harmony which puts Senators Quay and Penrose in what is regarded as undisputed control of the Republican state organization.

BRITISH FORT CAPTURED.

A General Uprising of the Afridis Seems to Have Occurred.

LONDON, Aug. 25.—An official dispatch from Simla announces that Fort Maude, in the Khyber pass, has been captured by the Afridis after desperate fighting. The garrison, which was composed of native levies known as the Khyber Rifles, retired with the loss of three men. The Afridis afterward burned the fort.

The fate of Fort Ali-Musjid, which was simultaneously attacked by the Afridis, is not known.

A general revolt of the Afridis was what the Indian government feared the most, and it now seems to have taken place. The government has received a communication from the ameer of Afghanistan, in which he denies all responsibility for the risings of the mullahs or fanatical priests of the different tribes.

The Afridis number about 20,000 first-class hill fighters. A feature of the situation is that the Anglo-Indian army is largely recruited from the Afridis.

ANDREWS LIKELY TO STAY.

Whitman Says So and Declines to Consider Presidency of Brown.

BOSTON, Aug. 25.—Rev. Dr. Beniah L. Whitman, president of Columbia university at Washington, who has been mentioned as a possible successor to President Andrews at Brown university, said of the matter:

"In my judgment the misconceptions which are going around on this matter will be corrected when the corporation of Brown meets Sept. 1.

"The members of the corporation are all scattered now, but undoubtedly they will all meet at that time, and I am fully persuaded that President Andrews and the corporation will find ground upon which mutual respect will be maintained, and that all difficulties will be adjusted."

When asked if he would accept the position if Dr. Andrews refused it Dr. Whitman replied: "To me the question has no meaning, as there is no vacancy at Brown, and in my judgment there will not be any."

PRUSSIA AND THE RAILROADS.

A U. S. Consul Says Government Ownership Is a Success There.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Consul Monaghan, at Chemnitz, Germany, has sent to the state department a report on Prussian railroads. "State ownership of railroads," he says, "plays an important part in Prussia's finances. Earning enormous sums, serving commerce and manufacturers in times of peace and all strategic purposes in times of war, they have more than justified the arguments that urged the government to own them and liberal policies that have put them down and pushed them out into all parts of the empire."

Two Aged Women Murdered.

BERLIN, Aug. 25.—Mrs. Augusta Schultz, a widow 71 years old, and her daughter Clara, 51, worth about $3,000, have been murdered and robbed by an unknown shoemaker, who is supposed to be on his way to New York, where officers have been notified to be on the lookout. They lived in a fashionable residence district.

Brown Not Rescued, but Hanged.

FAYETTEVILLE, W. Va., Aug. 25.—Jerry Brown has been hanged for an assault committed on Mrs. Hadford last February. Two thousand people witnessed the execution. Brown's neck was not broken, and he died amidst groans and struggles. Troops were called out to prevent an alleged attempt at rescue.

LED BY THE PRESIDENT.

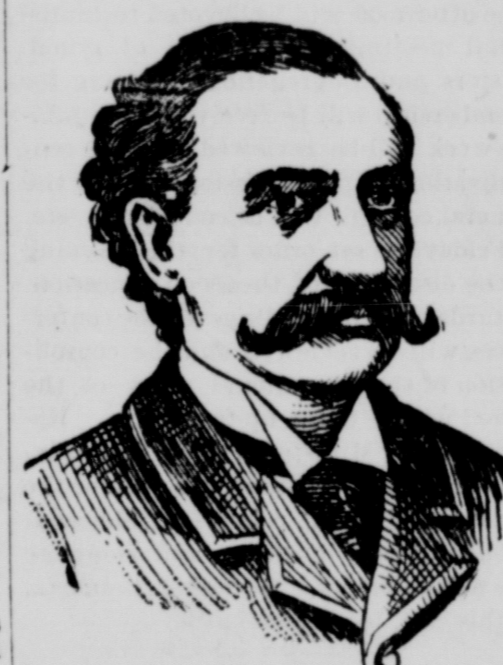

Headed the G. A. R. Parade in Buffalo Today.

THEN REVIEWED THE VETERANS.

Commander-in-Chief Clarkson and Staff Acted as Escort—Number of Reunions. Auxiliary Organizations Hold Meetings and Parades—The Business Transacted.

BUFFALO, Aug. 25.—President McKinley rode at the head of the line in the G. A. R. parade as far as the reviewing stand, where he took the seat previously assigned to him and reviewed the veterans as they passed by. The president occupied a carriage with General Rogers of Buffalo and was escorted by Commander-in-Chief Clarkson and his staff.

A notable feature of the encampment was the arrival of President McKinley, accompanied by Secretary Alger and Governor Black of New York. A banquet to the president last evening and the parade of the naval veterans and ex-prisoners of war were also great features. During the day there were more than 30 corps, brigade and regimental and company reunions. Last evening there were a number of camp fires for the men and receptions and musical entertainments for the ladies.

The first parade in which Grand Army men took part was a notable event.

The Naval Veterans' association and the ex-prisoners of war association, together with the survivors of Erie county regiments and other organizations, composed the Grand Army contingent of the parade. The naval veterans wore the uniform of the United States naval service and made a splendid appearance. As they rolled through the streets in the swinging gait of men-of-war men the crowd cheered them to the echo.

The ex-prisoners of war from the rank and file of the G. A. R. wore the uniforms of their respective posts, and on each coat was fastened a badge bearing the name of the prison in which the wearer had been confined. As the names of the Andersonville, Libby, Salisbury, Belle Isle, Florence, Castle Thunder and other places of historic horror were read the cheers became deafening.

The National Association of ex-Prisoners of War met in annual convention with Commander Charles F. Sheriff of Pittsburg in the chair. The attendance was the largest since the organization of the association.

The report of the adjutant general showed 63 local associations, with a membership of 1,932, and 702 individual members, a total membership of 2,204. There was a substantial cash balance in the treasury.

Several speakers advocated the passage of the ex-prisoners' relief bill to be presented to congress.

These officers were elected: Commander, Charles F. Sheriff, Pittsburg; senior vice commander, J. L. Kilgour, Brooklyn; chaplain, John S. Ferguson, Keokuk, Ia.; historian, Lewis R. Fortescue, Philadelphia; quartermaster general, S. M. Long, East Orange, N. J.

Executive committee, ex-Mayor Doran, St. Paul; James Atwell, Pittsburg; Isaac C. Seeley, Minneapolis, and John P. Donahoe, Wilmington, Del.

The Loyal Home Workers held a meeting with 100 delegates, representing 15 states, present. The annual reports showed that the order was making steady progress, its membership now exceeding 16,000.

When Rear Admiral Sears called the twelfth annual convention of the National Association of Naval Veterans to order about 300 delegates were in attendance. Daniel F. Kelly of Philadelphia was elected rear admiral for the ensuing year over Will E. Atkins by a vote of 94 to 13.

A resolution was adopted urging the secretary of the navy to accept the plans of Baerer & Webb of New York for a statue of the late Rear Admiral David B. Porter, to be erected in Philadelphia or Washington.

The committee on resolutions reported against the removal of gold stripes from the uniforms of the naval veterans. After a fierce fight the matter was unanimously laid on the table for a year.

A resolution approving the project of the late General William B. Hazen to establish a sanitarium on Castle Pinckney island in Charleston harbor was unanimously adopted.

Another fight arose over the report of the committee on the revision of the constitution, which proposed to amend the constitution regarding classes 2 and 3, which consist of sons, grand sons and associates of the veterans, so that these might be expelled from the national association. A lengthy and somewhat animated discussion ended in tabling the report.

The National Association of Army Nurses met with Mrs. Emily E. Woodley of Philadelphia in the chair, and after listening to the addresses of the president and senior vice president and the various reports, adjourned in order to allow the members to take a ride on the lake.

At the opening session of the Ladies of the G. A. R. every state except Iowa and Indiana was represented. Mrs. Catharine F. Hirst, president, presided.

Colonel Sexton of Chicago has withdrawn as a candidate for commander-in-chief. There are now three eastern and one western candidate for the place.

Of Cincinnati's success in her race for the next encampment there appears to be little doubt, although Denver has loomed up as an aspirant for that honor.

At Colonel Gobin's headquarters, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware are claimed for the Pennsylvania man, and his friends say he will be in the fight to the end.

Among the prominent arrivals were General Lew Wallace and Former Commander-in-Chief Thomas G. Lawler.

BANQUET TO M'KINLEY.

A Brilliant Affair Given by Columbia Post of Chicago—The President's Warm Greeting to Hanna—The Senator Given an Ovation by the Crowd.

BUFFALO, Aug. 25.—From the moment that the special train that bore the president and his retinue to the city arrived until he retired last night there was one glorious and spontaneous demonstration. When the Niagara hotel was reached the president made a neat little speech to the enthusiastic multitude.

Shortly after 5 o'clock Columbia post, dressed in fatigue coats and white duck trousers, arrived at the hotel and acted as escort to the president to the Elliott building, where the post entertained the president at a banquet.

At the guest table sat Commander C. H. McConnell of Columbia post, toastmaster of the occasion; President McKinley, Commander-in-Chief T. S. Clarkson, Archbishop Ireland, General Russell A. Alger, Governor Frank S. Black, Chaplain-in-Chief Mark B. Taylor, ex-Postmaster General Wilson S. Bissell, Governor Hazen S. Pingree of Michigan and many others.

When an elaborate menu had been discussed to the satisfaction of guests the toastmaster called for Governor Frank S. Black, who extended a welcome for Columbia post to President McKinley.

At 8:45 o'clock Senator Mark Hanna, who had just arrived in the city, came into the banquet hall. His entry was noted by applause at the further end of the hall and as the proceedings paused, President McKinley rose from his seat and moved along the hall to meet him. There was a shout of applause as the two men clasped hands and the president's left hand went upon Mr. Hanna's shoulder. Both took their seats amid applause. Mr. Hanna had to hold a levee.

Closely following Mr. Hanna's entrance it was announced that the president, desiring to hear Archbishop Ireland and other speakers, had decided to make a brief visit to some of the campfires and then return. He left, accompanied by Commander-in-Chief Clarkson.

While Mayor Jewett was speaking the president returned and for a few moments pandemonium reigned supreme, somebody yelling "wheat $1.03, silver 40c" a cry that was taken up and repeated again and again.

When Mr. Jewett had finished his address President McKinley was introduced, and for fully five minutes it seemed as though the roof would have to fall or the side walls bulge with the roars of applause and greeting. The president made a patriotic speech in which he referred eloquently to the reunited north and south.

A WINDOWGLASS COMBINE.

Organization Formed That Will Practically Control the Market.

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—The windowglass manufacturers have formed a combine at a meeting here. The product of all manufacturers will be paid for at an agreed price and turned over to the manager of the association.

The manager will distribute the output to the jobbers and the production will be pro rated according to the number of pots operated by each manufacturer. The new organization will practically control the market.

STANTON IS HONORED.

Steubenville Paid a Tribute to His Memory.

SICKLES DELIVERED A EULOGY.

Congressman Taylor Also Spoke During the Ceremonies—A Memorial Tablet Unveiled—The Parade an Imposing One—Bar Association Held a Meeting.

STUEBENVILLE, O., Aug. 25.—The city is happy over the success of the first day of the centennial and the magnificent manner in which the memory of Edwin M. Stanton, her most distinguished son, has been commemorated. Fully 8,000 visitors have been here and surging crowds are seen on the streets. The Stanton day parade was very imposing, the main feature being the participation of the school pupils. The military of the state and nation made a fine showing. The clergy, board of education, the bar and Wells Historical society also participated.

Three thousand people were in line. Among the distinguished guests in carriages were Prof. Venable and Mrs. D. W. Matlack, State Treasurer S. B. Campbell and Attorney General F. S. Monnett, General Sickles, Rev. O. V. Stewart, Congressman R. W. Taylor and Captain Oliver, Mrs. Pamphylia Stanton Wolcott of Akron, Dr. A. M. Reid, John McOracken and Mrs. Wolcott of this city, Rev. David S. Tappan, D. D., Portsmouth; the Misses Wolcott of Sewickley, Pa.; Mrs. Nancy H. Stanton and Mrs. Rev. John H. Ely of Cincinnati.

After the parade the people gathered on Market street, where the Stanton memorial tablet was dedicated. "The Star Spangled Banner" was rendered by the Seventeenth Infantry band; the invocation by Rev. L. H. Stewart of Cleveland. Then General Sickles, the Gettysburg veteran, delivered an address, giving interesting reminiscences of the war secretary to whose memory the tablet had been dedicated. General Sickles was an intimate friend of Stanton. He said no one could take from Stanton the credit that belonged to him, as the main director of the federal armies during the rebellion. He spoke of his greatness as a lawyer, as a citizen, as a cabinet officer during the most trying times of the greatest republic that was ever brought into existence by any people.

After General Sickles' address Hon. R. W. Taylor, member of congress from the Columbiana district, was introduced and delivered an address on the life and character of Stanton, dwelling of the importance of the lesson to the school children. After the national hymn, "America," by the school pupils and the benediction by Dr. A. M. Reed, the daylight ceremonies of the first day's celebration of the centennial came to an end.

The tablet unveiled here in memory of the war secretary is of bronze and on it are these words:

"Edwin M. Stanton, attorney general, secretary of war, justice of the supreme court. Born here 19th December, 1814. Erected by the school children of Jefferson county A. D. 1897."

In the courthouse the ladies' centennial committee, 150 in number, gave a public reception and promenade concert to the city's distinguished visitors. A lantern parade was given, in which 500 bicyclists took part, and it formed a very pretty feature. The Bar association, of which Stanton was formerly a member, held a memorial meeting in the City Opera House.

The Cadiz Bar association, of which Stanton was also a member, was also present, and Hon. J. H. S. Trainer, the oldest member of the bar, delivered the address from personal recollections of Stanton, with whom he practiced.

Eight hundred more of the Ohio national guard arrived and went into camp on Pleasant heights, where they have a view of six miles of river scenery. Hundreds of Pittsburgers are here.

PARK SNAPPED HIS GUN.

A Washington C. H. Man Found His Wife With Another.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 25.—Two owners of horses at the Newport race track have had a sensational meeting at Newport. F. A. Park of Washington C. H. O., arrived to look after his horses and found A. H. Smith of Texas with his wife. Park snapped his revolver three times in the face of Smith, but it was not loaded, as Park presumed it was. Smith escaped by the officers holding Park.

Afterward Park created a scene at the Kessen Grove tavern, where he thought Smith and his wife were lodging, and where he was refused admittance. Park swore out warrants against both parties, but they escaped before the warrants could be served. Smith is said to have a family in Texas. Park declares he will kill Smith on sight.

Missing Brother's Body Found.

DETROIT, Aug. 25.—The body of Aaron C. Conn, the missing board of trade operator, has been found on Belle Isle. Around his neck a handkerchief had been knotted and then twisted with a lead pencil. Conn is said to have lost considerable money and was partially deranged.

ter was unanimously laid on the table for a year.

A resolution approving the project of the late General William B. Hazen to establish a sanitarium on Castle Pinckney island in Charleston harbor was unanimously adopted.

Another fight arose over the report of the committee on the revision of the constitution, which proposed to amend the constitution regarding classes 2 and 3, which consist of sons, grand sons and associates of the veterans, so that these might be expelled from the national association. A lengthy and somewhat animated discussion ended in tabling the report.

The National Association of Army Nurses met with Mrs. Emily E. Woodley of Philadelphia in the chair, and after listening to the addresses of the president and senior vice president and the various reports, adjourned in order to allow the members to take a ride on the lake.

At the opening session of the Ladies of the G. A. R. every state except Iowa and Indiana was represented. Mrs. Catharine F. Hirst, president, presided.

Colonel Sexton of Chicago has withdrawn as a candidate for commander-in-chief. There are now three eastern and one western candidate for the place.

Of Cincinnati's success in her race for the next encampment there appears to be little doubt, although Denver has loomed up as an aspirant for that honor.

At Colonel Gobin's headquarters, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware are claimed for the Pennsylvania man, and his friends say he will be in the fight to the end.

Among the prominent arrivals were General Lew Wallace and Former Commander-in-Chief Thomas G. Lawler.

BANQUET TO M'KINLEY.

A Brilliant Affair Given by Columbia Post of Chicago—The President's Warm Greeting to Hanna—The Senator Given an Ovation by the Crowd.

BUFFALO, Aug. 25.—From the moment that the special train that bore the president and his retinue to the city arrived until he retired last night there was one glorious and spontaneous demonstration. When the Niagara hotel was reached the president made a neat little speech to the enthusiastic multitude.

Shortly after 5 o'clock Columbia post, dressed in fatigue coats and white duck trousers, arrived at the hotel and acted as escort to the president to the Elliott building, where the post entertained the president at a banquet.

At the guest table sat Commander C. H. McConnell of Columbia post, toastmaster of the occasion; President McKinley, Commander-in-Chief T. S. Clarkson, Archbishop Ireland, General Russell A. Alger, Governor Frank S. Black, Chaplain-in-Chief Mark B. Taylor, ex-Postmaster General Wilson S. Bissell, Governor Hazen S. Pingree of Michigan and many others.

When an elaborate menu had been discussed to the satisfaction of guests the toastmaster called for Governor Frank S. Black, who extended a welcome for Columbia post to President McKinley.

At 8:45 o'clock Senator Mark Hanna, who had just arrived in the city, came into the banquet hall. His entry was noted by applause at the further end of the hall and as the proceedings paused, President McKinley rose from his seat and moved along the hall to meet him. There was a shout of applause as the two men clasped hands and the president's left hand went upon Mr. Hanna's shoulder. Both took their seats amid applause. Mr. Hanna had to hold a levee.

Closely following Mr. Hanna's entrance it was announced that the president, desiring to hear Archbishop Ireland and other speakers, had decided to make a brief visit to some of the camp fires and then return. He left, accompanied by Commander-in-Chief Clarkson.

While Mayor Jewett was speaking the president returned and for a few moments pandemonium reigned supreme, somebody yelling "wheat $1.03, silver 40c" a cry that was taken up and repeated again and again.

When Mr. Jewett had finished his address President McKinley was introduced, and for fully five minutes it seemed as though the roof would have to fall or the side walls bulge with the roars of applause and greeting. The president made a patriotic speech in which he referred eloquently to the reunited north and south.

A WINDOWGLASS COMBINE.

Organization Formed That Will Practically Control the Market.

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—The windowglass manufacturers have formed a combine at a meeting here. The product of all manufacturers will be paid for at an agreed price and turned over to the manager of the association.

The manager will distribute the output to the jobbers and the production will be pro rated according to the number of pots operated by each manufacturer. The new organization will practically control the market.

Steubenville Paid a Tribute to His Memory.

SICKLES DELIVERED A EULOGY.

Congressman Taylor Also Spoke During the Ceremonies—A Memorial Tablet Unveiled—The Parade an Imposing One—Bar Association Held a Meeting.

STUEBENVILLE, O., Aug. 25.—The city is happy over the success of the first day of the centennial and the magnificent manner in which the memory of Edwin M. Stanton, her most distinguished son, has been commemorated. Fully 8,000 visitors have been here and surging crowds are seen on the streets. The Stanton day parade was very imposing, the main feature being the participation of the school pupils. The military of the state and nation made a fine showing. The clergy, board of education, the bar and Wells Historical society also participated.

Three thousand people were in line. Among the distinguished guests in carriages were Prof. Venable and Mrs. D. W. Matlack, State Treasurer S. B. Campbell and Attorney General F. S. Monnett, General Sickles, Rev. O. V. Stewart, Congressman R. W. Taylor and Captain Oliver, Mrs. Pamphylia Stanton Wolcott of Akron, Dr. A. M. Reid, John McCracken and Mrs. Wolcott of this city, Rev. David S. Tappan, D. D., Portsmouth; the Misses Wolcott of Sewickley, Pa.; Mrs. Nancy H. Stanton and Mrs. Rev. John H. Ely of Cincinnati.

After the parade the people gathered on Market street, where the Stanton memorial tablet was dedicated. "The Star Spangled Banner" was rendered by the Seventeenth Infantry band; the invocation by Rev. L. H. Stewart of Cleveland. Then General Sickles, the Gettysburg veteran, delivered an address, giving interesting reminiscences of the war secretary to whose memory the tablet had been dedicated. General Sickles was an intimate friend of Stanton. He said no one could take from Stanton the credit that belonged to him, as the main director of the federal armies during the rebellion. He spoke of his greatness as a lawyer, as a citizen, as a cabinet officer during the most trying times of the greatest republic that was ever brought into existence by any people.

After General Sickles' address Hon. R. W. Taylor, member of congress from the Columbiana district, was introduced and delivered an address on the life and character of Stanton, dwelling on the importance of the lesson to the school children. After the national hymn, "America," by the school pupils and the benediction by Dr. A. M. Reid, the daylight ceremonies of the first day's celebration of the centennial came to an end.

The tablet unveiled here in memory of the war secretary is of bronze and on it are these words:

"Edwin M. Stanton, attorney general, secretary of war, justice of the supreme court. Born here 19th December, 1814. Erected by the school children of Jefferson county A. D. 1897."

In the courthouse the ladies' centennial committee, 150 in number, gave a public reception and promenade concert to the city's distinguished visitors. A lantern parade was given, in which 500 bicyclists took part, and it formed a very pretty feature. The Bar association, of which Stanton was formerly a member, held a memorial meeting in the City Opera House.

The Cadiz Bar association, of which Stanton was also a member, was also present, and Hon. J. H. S. Trainer, the oldest member of the bar, delivered the address from personal recollections of Stanton, with whom he practiced.

Eight hundred more of the Ohio national guard arrived and went into camp on Pleasant heights, where they have a view of six miles of river scenery. Hundreds of Pittsburgers are here.

PARK SNAPPED HIS GUN.

A Washington C. H. Man Found His Wife With Another.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 25.—Two owners of horses at the Newport race track have had a sensational meeting at Newport. F. A. Park of Washington C. H., O., arrived to look after his horses and found A. H. Smith of Texas with his wife. Park snapped his revolver three times in the face of Smith, but it was not loaded, as Park presumed it was. Smith escaped by the officers holding Park.

Afterward Park created a scene at the Kessen Grove tavern, where he thought Smith and his wife were lodging, and where he was refused admittance. Park swore out warrants against both parties, but they escaped before the warrants could be served. Smith is said to have a family in Texas. Park declares he will kill Smith on sight.

Missing Brother's Body Found.

DETROIT, Aug. 25.—The body of Aaron C. Conn, the missing board of trade operator, has been found on Belle Isle. Around his neck a handkerchief had been knotted and then twisted with a lead pencil. Conn is said to have lost considerable money and was partially deranged.

THEIR DEADLY FIRE.

THE AMERICAN RIFLEMEN AT THE BATTLE OF NEW ORLEANS.

A Description of the Engagement by General Jackson—A Letter From "Old Hickory"—How Pakenham's Veterans Were Defeated by Frontiersmen.

In The Century William Hugh Roberts has an article entitled "Napoleon's Interest In the Battle of New Orleans." In this is quoted a hitherto unpublished letter written by General Jackson to Mr. James Monroe. A portion of the letter follows:

There was a very heavy fog on the river that morning, and the British had formed and were moving before I knew it. The disposition of the riflemen was very simple. They were told off in Nos. 1 and 2. No. 1 was to fire first, then step back and let No. 2 shoot while he reloaded. About 600 yards from the riflemen there was a great drainage canal running back from the Mississippi river to the swamp in the rear of the tilled land on which we were operating. Along this canal the British formed, under the fire of the few artillery pieces I had near enough to them to get their range. But the instant I saw them I said to Coffee, whom I directed to hurry to his line, which was to be first attacked: "By —, we have got them! They are ours!" Coffee dashed forward, and, riding along his line, called out, "Don't shoot till you can see their belt buckles!" The British were formed in mass, well closed up, and about two companies front.

The British, thus formed, moved on at a quick step, without firing a shot, to within 100 yards of the kneeling riflemen, who were holding their fire till they could see the belt buckles of their enemies. The British advance was executed as though they had been on parade. They marched shoulder to shoulder, with the step of veterans, as they were. At 100 yards distance from our line the order was given: "Extend column front! Double quick, march! Charge!" With bayonets at the charge, they came on us at a run. I own it was an anxious moment. I well knew the charging column was made up of the picked troops of the British army. They had been trained by the duke himself, were commanded by his brother-in-law and had successfully held off the ablest of Napoleon's marshals in the Spanish campaign. My riflemen had never seen such an attack, nor had they ever before fought white men. The morning, too, was damp. Their powder might not burn well. "God help us!" I muttered, watching the rapidly advancing line. Seventy, 60, 50, finally 40 yards, were they from the silent kneeling riflemen. All of my men that I could see was their long rifles rested on the logs before them. They obeyed their orders well. Not a shot was fired until the redcoats were within 40 yards. I heard Coffee's voice as he roared out: "Now, men, aim for the center of the cross belts! Fire!" A second after the order a crackling, blazing flash ran all along our line. The smoke hung so heavily in the misty morning air that I could not see what had happened. I called Tom Overton and Abner Duncan of my staff, and we galloped toward Coffee's line. In a few seconds after the first fire there came another sharp, ringing volley. As I came within 150 yards of Coffee the smoke lifted enough for me to make out what was happening.

The British were falling back in a confused, disorderly mass, and the entire first ranks of their column were blown away. For 200 yards in our front the ground was covered with a mass of writhing, wounded, dead and dying redcoats. By the time the rifles were wiped the British line was reformed, and on it came again. This time they were led by General Pakenham in person, gallantly mounted and riding as though he was on parade. Just before he got within range of Coffee's line I heard a single rifle shot from a group of country carts we had been using, about 175 yards distant, and a moment thereafter I saw Pakenham reel and pitch out of his saddle. I have always believed he fell from the bullet of a freeman of color who was a famous rifle shot and came from the Atakappa region of Louisiana. The second advance was precisely like the first in its ending. In five volleys the 1,500 or more riflemen killed and wounded 2,117 British soldiers, two-thirds of them killed dead or mortally wounded. I did not know where General Pakenham was lying, or I should have sent to him or gone in person to offer any service in my power to render.

I was told he lived two hours after he was hit. His wound was directly through the liver and bowels. General Keene, I hear, was killed. They sent a flag to me, asking leave to gather up their wounded and bury their dead, which, of course, I granted. I was told by a wounded officer that the rank and file absolutely refused to make a third charge. "We have no chance with such shooting as these Americans do," they said.

The Serpent.

PREACHERS IN SESSION

An Interesting Meeting Held In Rochester.

WHAT WILL BE ACCOMPLISHED

Ministers of the Evangelical Lutheran Church Are Assembled For the Annual Conference—It Will Continue Through Several Days.

The fifty-fifth annual convention of the Pittsburg synod of the Evangelical Lutheran church will be held in Rochester today.

A number of important matters will come up for consideration, which will call forth animated discussion and require careful deliberation.

The session will be held in Grace church, under the pastoral care of Rev. J. F. Heckert. Confessional services were held at 10 a. m. At 10:30 Reverend J. C. Kunzman preached the synodical sermon. The celebration of the Holy Communion will follow. Wednesday afternoon the synod will open. The election of officers will take place, committees will be announced, parochial reports will be handed to the apportionment committee, the papers requiring action will be referred to the appropriate committees and the business machinery will be put in motion. Thursday morning is set apart for the discussion of theses on mission work. The afternoon will be devoted to ministerial meeting and a session of synod. Pastors and congregations applying for membership will be received. The jubilee work will be reviewed, and the centralization of the mission work of the general council will be considered, etc.

Friday the set order for the morning is the discussion of theses on education. Saturday the proceedings of the conferences will be reviewed and the consolidation of the educational work of the synod will be taken up for action. Reports of the Ministerial Relief association and the committee on Home for the Aged and Infirm, rendered. Miscellaneous and new business will complete the week's labors. Reverend Reinartz, of this city, is in attendance.

NOT ENOUGH WATER

To Allow the Queen City to Reach Pittsburg.

The river fell during the night and the marks at the wharf show 36 inches in the channel at this port.

The Queen City came at 5:30 last evening but could not go any farther on account of low water. Captain Agnew sent 44 of his passengers to Pittsburg on the 8 o'clock train, and on the early eastern this morning 22 more were sent. The freight was sent up over the Cleveland and Pittsburg road. At Wheeling a lot of Pittsburg passengers will be received.

Local shipments light. Passed up, Clara Cavett from New Cumberland.

ABUSED HIS WIFE,

And the Mayor Gave Him a Well Earned Lesson.

John Boyle, of Walker, was arrested yesterday afternoon for disorderly conduct and using abusive language to his wife. He was put in the coop by Officer Whan, and at the hearing this morning was fined $7.60 or 30 days.

The drunk whose name could not be learned, arrested yesterday afternoon by Officer Terrence, was given a hearing this morning and fined $6.60 or 30 days to the works.

The police had little to do last night, although a number of drunks could be seen on the streets at a late hour.

Mr. Hoefgen Was Here.

John B. Hoefgen, of Cleveland, arrived in the city last night and was seen at his office in the power house by a NEWS REVIEW man. Mr. Hoefgen said he was only looking after routine business, and as far as the recent suit entered against the stockholders there was nothing new, as it would be looked after by Judge Blandin and would have to take its turn with the others.

THE GEISSE AND DENNIS CASES

Other Suits Will Likely Be Entered—Large Crowds at Hollow Rock—A Ball Game at Rock Point—Improvements at the Mill. All the News.

The case of Mary Dennis against Frank Geisse came up for hearing, in the court of Mayor Jones, yesterday, and consumed the greater part of the afternoon. The mayor reserved his decision until Thursday. Geisse was charged with knocking Mary down. Immediately afterward, the case of John Dennis against Bertha Geisse, was called. She was charged with striking him with a buggy whip many times. She got $5 and costs. The Geisse and Dennis families have had a general falling out, and the principals say the end is not yet. Charges and counter charges are being made, and Mayor Jones need have no cause to complain of dull business.

At Hollow Rock.

Amanda Smith, the colored evangelist, delivered a sermon at Hollow Rock, yesterday, and one conversion was reported. She will leave for Chicago next Thursday.

It is said that last Sunday's gathering was the largest in several years. All the cottages and the hotel are filled.

Baseball.

The Young Americas and a picked nine of Sixth street players had a game yesterday, the former winning by 18-16. The batteries were Stewart and Akron, and Clark and Lee.

The Crescents will play Beaver Falls at Rock Point next Friday, and Toronto on Saturday. A hot game is expected in Liverpool.

The News of Wellsville.

The funeral of Mrs. Ernest Herwig took place from the family residence, Seventh street, yesterday afternoon, and was largely attended. Doctor Reager conducted the services.

The Liverpool soldiers were long delayed in reaching Steubenville. The number of coaches was not large enough, and they were sent down the river on a special train which left here at noon.

Charles Mardis returned from Niagara Falls yesterday evening.

The replevin suit of Jenny McConnell against W. F. Haney and J. C. Davies is set for next Saturday in Squire Riley's court.

Councilmen Beacom, Cooper and Rand attended the Steubenville centennial today.

Ross McKinnon, of Pittsburg, is calling on friends in the city.

General Eckley, born in Steubenville 87 years ago, passed through here today on his way to the centennial. The general resides in Carrollton, and is one of its most substantial citizens. He served with distinction in the war, and once occupied a seat in congress.

From the amount of new machinery delivered at the rolling mill within the past few days it is inferred that a number of important improvements are soon to be made.

A letter from Squire McKenzie says he is enjoying his outing.

Mrs. Asa Morgan is ill.

Mrs. Frank Clyde is moving to her property in Main street. Some improvements are being made.

The boys at the shops are putting back the old flue cleaner, the new one placed in position some time ago being too small. It is being arranged so that parties living near will not be disturbed by the rasping noise.

Miss Hannah Ewing and daughter, Miss Mattie, are visiting at Yorktown, Ohio.

J. Q. Boring took judgment by default against W. Manley, in Justice Haney's court.

Mr. and Mrs. Cole, of Commerce street, are in Steubenville attending the centennial.

The case of Annie Morrison against Thomas, Ray, Earl and Mabel Russell, for wages, will likely be compromised in Squire Haney's court.

NEW STEAMSHIP LINE.

Vessels Now Building to Ply Between New York and London.

Arrangements have been completed for the establishment of a new transatlantic passenger and freight line of steamships between this port and London, the operation of which is to be begun in the latter part of next month. Five handsome and commodious steamships, combining all the comforts of ocean vessels, are now building for the service. The corporation which is to control the line is English. At its head are several of the best known and wealthiest shipping men of that country, notably the Wilsons, Furness and Leyland, all of whom are now identified with several lines of vessels which touch at this port, Boston and Halifax. The capital stock of the company is $650,000. The representatives of the new line assert that it will prove one of the strongest in the Atlantic trade. At present the Atlantic Transport company has a strong hold on the freight carrying business from this port to London. A strong bid will be made for some of this trade by the new company, although it is promised that there will be no rate cutting.

Over $100,000 is being spent on the construction and fitting up on each of the five steamships, which, the owners say, will prove to be modern ocean palaces. They are not, however, constructing with particular attention to speed. Rates for first class passage are to be maintained at between $50 and $75, which is expected to cut into the business of the lines controlling the big ocean greyhounds. "First class accommodations at low prices" is the motto of the company. The title of the new concern is the Wilsons & Furness-Leyland line, London to New York. The vessels will dock at Pier 50, North River, where a new pier is constructing upon which a double deck structure will be built. The Tilling docks will be the London terminal.

Messrs. Sandersons & Sons have been appointed general agents for the line in the United States and Canada. The passenger department will be in charge of P. W. Gibson, a prominent shipping agent, who for years was connected with the old Guion line.

The names of the five vessels which will be employed in the service are Victoria, Alexandra, Bartecca, Cleopatra and Cassandra.—New York Sun.

In many parts of Central and South America sensitive plants are so numerous that the course of a man or animal through the undergrowth may for an hour be traced by the wilted appearance of the foliage.

RICH PEARLS IN ARKANSAS.

Hundreds Wading the Streams Picking Up the Gems.

LITTLE ROCK, Aug. 25.—New discoveries of valuable deposits of pearls in lakes and rivers in Arkansas have added greatly to the excitement already existing over similar discoveries, and thousands of people are wading through the water in different parts of the state searching for the precious gems. The latest and most sensational discoveries were made in the Arkansas river and the creeks, lakes and bayous near Little Rock, where pearls have been picked up ranging in value from $10 to $800 each.

Hundreds of people are working the Saline, White and other rivers and many valuable finds have been reported. Additional discoveries were made on the Fourche river and hundreds of people are swarming to that stream. A staff representative of The Arkansas Gazette, who has spent much time in investigating the matter, says there are 57 streams in the state that are rich in pearls of large size.

WHEAT STILL LOWER.

Bears Have an Inning and Force Down Prices.

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—The bears had an inning in wheat. The September option at one time sold 9 cents below the high point. December beat this by a cent and a quarter. The closing figures show a loss for the day of 5½¢ in September and 5½¢ in December. Heavy and long-continued liquidation was the cause of the break.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—The disastrous result of operations by eleventh hour bulls was demonstrated in the action of the wheat market. Failing to secure the necessary assortment of bull news these belated holders punctured the bull bubble and prices fell with a crash to a point over 8 cents a bushel below the top notch for the year, reaching the lowest figure when December, after having opened at $1.00½, sold at 95½¢.

Daughters of Liberty.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 25.—The twenty-first annual session of the national council of the Daughters of Liberty is meeting in the supreme courtroom, in the courthouse. There are about 200 delegates and visitors present. Most of the delegates are women.

Hurst Slowly Recovering.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Tim Hurst, the baseball umpire, who was injured in the second game between the Brooklyn and Pittsburgh at Eastern park, is slowly recovering. He is suffering from a hemorrhage of the brain.

The Price of Silver.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—At the New York price for bars the value of the silver in the standard silver dollar is 89.66 cents.

English Invested $5,000,000.

LONDON, Aug. 25.—Mr. Edwin Corbin of Chicago has closed a deal amalgamating the United States and Canadian lakes fisheries companies, whereby the control of 20 companies passed into the hands of a British company with $5,000,000 capital.

Panic In Constantinople.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 25.—There was a panic here owing to the police chasing and arresting two Armenians. Nearly all the stores in the quarter where the arrests were made were hurriedly closed and remained shut until the police reassured their proprietors.

Preacher Bitten by a Snake.

HARRISBURG, Aug. 25.—Rev. F. W. Baker, for years pastor of the Dauphin Presbyterian church, has been bitten on the hand by a copperhead snake at Walkemeyer's dam. His arm was badly swollen, and the result of the bite is yet in doubt.

A Bookkeeper Suicides.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25.—Captain M. G. Bolton, bookkeeper for the Los Angeles Lighting company, has committed suicide by shooting. He has suffered from abscess in the head for the past month.

Won a $45,000 Purse.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—The unexpected happened at Sheepshead Bay and the filly L'Alouette of the Thompson string won the futurity with something to spare. The purse was worth $45,000.

Resolutions Eulogized Bryan.

LOCK HAVEN, Pa., Aug. 25.—The Clinton county Democratic convention here nominated a ticket and delegates to the state convention. Resolutions endorsing the Chicago platform and eulogizing Bryan were adopted.

Priscilla in the Berry Patch.

I'd loved and lost a many time—
Lost love's illusion—had been kissed
In dreams by joy, yet, broad awake,
Proclaimed myself a pessimist,
A melancholy misanthrope
At twenty odd, yet did I catch
A glimpse of heaven the day I met
Priscilla in the berry patch.

Forgotten were the fair but false
Beguilers of my giddy youth,
Drowned were the siren voices all.
Love struck at last the note of truth,
And, though my heart had seemed a tomb,
Hope found the door still on the latch
And entered in when I first saw
Priscilla in the berry patch.

Priscilla, pretty, pink and white,
Sweet, modest little country maid,
Dear child, whose very innocence
Made love and hope draw back, afraid!
Had I but bolder been! Alas,
I was a fool and dared not snatch
The heaven that hung within my reach
That one day in the berry patch!

A braver man than I it was
Who won her. Once again we meet
Upon the spot fond memory
Has kept for me e'er green and sweet.
The rose is faded on her cheek
And thinned upon her head the thatch.
Her children's children romp today
Around her in the berry patch!

Autumn Skirts.

Rumors have reached America that a number of the major lights in the great designing world of fashion in Paris are differing widely regarding the width of dress skirts for the autumn; the continuation in favor of the bolero, eton and similar small jackets, and also over the matter of reducing or increasing the size of dress sleeves, not a few atteliers desiring to compromise matters, and, without increasing sleeves to their recent absurd size, to keep from the tendency of certain noted tailors and designers to rob the new fall models entirely of even puff, frill or ruffle at the top.

Famous Finnish Women.

Did you know that there had been over 600 famous women in Finland? There must have been, for the biographies of more than 600 women who have been or are distinguished in public life in Finland may be read in the "Handbuch des Finnlandischen Frauenverin," recently published. In 1884 a frauenverin was founded for the improvement of the condition of women, and in 1891 a second association, called the Union (to which men were eligible), was founded for the same purpose.

Some English genealogists pretend that there is a family line of union connecting Queen Victoria with Alfred the Great.

It was formerly the custom among English cloth dealers to add the breadth of the thumb to the yard measure.

MR. BRYAN has not yet explained the cause of the sudden rise in the price of wheat. Perhaps this is because Mr. Bryan can't explain it.

THE farmer who has not yet sold his wheat, stands a mighty good chance of reaping a second harvest if he but holds to it a few weeks longer.

THERE is little danger of Europe objecting to our tariff these days. Every statesman beyond the Atlantic knows, if he knows anything, that Uncle Sam has the key to the situation.

A NEW SENTIMENT.

It is at last dawning upon some people in this country that tariff and not currency was the real issue of the last campaign, and now that prosperity is coming down with a rush they can see no reasonable excuse for congress spending much of its time next winter in talking about money. Nor can the rest of the country. The senate and the house cannot agree. Why then waste good time in useless discussion? Business will go on just the same. The wheels of progress have been set in motion by the tariff, their speed cannot be increased by a currency commission.

LARRY NEAL'S LATEST.

A few years ago one Lawrence T. Neal declared that protection was unconstitutional, and on that issue he fought for the governorship of this great state and was defeated. The other day this same Lawrence T. Neal contracted with a sugar manufacturing concern to sell them all the sugar beets raised on his farm, and he has already arranged to raise a great many bushels of these valuable beta. Since sugar beets are only made profitable through protection, this same Lawrence T. Neal is lining his pockets by a business he himself has declared illegitimate, thus adding another to the long list of Democratic inconsistencies.

THE COUNTY DEMOCRACY.

The county democracy had a nice time in Lisbon, yesterday. There were no contests, and affairs moved along with a smoothness highly suggestive of well laid plans and carefully prepared arrangements. It was a convention in which the rank and file took but little part. The leaders had seen the workings of the party machine at Columbus, and were well prepared to do as it dictated. No one expected anything else. It has long been known that the love of the Chicago platform continued to blossom in the Columbiana Democrat, and he would endorse its principles, and nominate a ticket as though there were none but beaten tracks for the faithful. It was a gang convention from start to finish, a gathering where a few men transacted the business.

Cigarettes Go Up.

The manufacturers have raised the price of cigarettes, and the retail dealers of the article in this city have done the same thing. Some of the dealers have increased the price on a small box two cents, while others only one cent. This will cause a slump in the trade.

HELD IN HIGH ESTEEM

Was Superintendent Rayman by His Teachers.

THEY SENT A GOOD LETTER

It Is Directed to the Corps of This City, and Praises the Gentleman For His Merit. The Institute Is Still In Session—A Reception This Evening.

The following letter received last evening from the teachers, of the Logan public schools, shows the high regard they had for Professor Rayman, and the regret with which they part from him:
LOGAN, O., July 31, 1897.

To the teachers of East Liverpool:
We, the undersigned teachers, of Logan public schools, surrender to you our superintendent with regret.

Mr. R. E. Rayman is a true friend to the teachers, and a man of sterling worth, a Christian in name and practice.

His resignation to enter your city as advisor, instructor and superintendent will be an almost irreparable loss to us.

We commend him to the public generally as a man of the highest character and as being capable of managing a school or schools well and with credit.

This recommendation is entirely without any solicitation from Superintendent Rayman, so when you are through with it, we shall be very thankful to you, if you hand this to him.

Signed.

HARD WORK
Is Being Done by the Teachers at the Institute.

The institute opened this morning a few minutes after 9 o'clock, and in the absence of Doctor Huston the devotional exercises were conducted by Superintendent Moore, of the Salem schools. Miss Revely gave an interesting talk on "Language Work—Composing," and Prof. G. W. Alloway on "U. S. History—Discoveries," pleased the large audience. The musical feature of the morning by Professor Luse was heartily enjoyed, and Doctor Hervey spoke on "What Knowledge Is Most Worth?" Miss Revely again spoke on language work, and the morning session concluded, those attending the institute having their picture taken in front of the building. The afternoon session opened at 1:30 with music by Professor Luse. Professor Alloway will again speak on U. S. history and Doctor Hervey will take for his subject "The two cat holes or the problem of incidental teaching." The session will close with "Literature Work In Primary Schools," by Miss Revely.

Farewell Reception.

An informal farewell reception will be given to Professor Sanor at the residence of Dr. G. P. Ikirt, corner of Jackson and Sixth streets, by his East Liverpool teachers and friends Wednesday evening from 8 'till 11. All friends welcome.

THE DELEGATES

Who Will Aid In Nominating Democracy's Senatorial Candidate.

LISBON, Aug. 25. — [Special] — The Democratic convention ended yesterday afternoon by the selection of delegates to the senatorial convention.

Those from Liverpool are: J. O. Rielly, W. E. Morrow, J. J. Weisend, Jno. Lipner, F. H. Ikirt, J. W. Moore, Hon. G. P. Ikirt, E. D. Cook, Dell Anderson, Walter S. Cook.

Wellsville—F. J. Forner, H. J. Aten, Bent Evanitscha, Thomas Aten, Mike Shingler.

Yellow Creek—W. S. Cuppe.
Madison—W. N. Gilmore.
St. Clair—E. D. Fisher.

Washington—W. B. Randolph, Thomas Dugan, J. J. Reed, J. D. Weaver.

Unity—Matt Begus, Adolph Mascher, Wm. Wallace, Geo. J. Koch, P. S. Nagle.

J. J. Weisend was made chairman of the executive committee, and will be allowed to select his own officers.

Cleaned the Wharf.

The heavy rain of last evening cleaned the Broadway wharf to some extent. All the rubbish that was placed there by the rise of last week was floated to the river, and a lot of gravel was washed away.

THE TALK OF EUROPE.

Interesting Comment on Matters Current In Foreign Lands.

Quietly and without attracting any attention, the German artillery has now been entirely equipped with new quick firing guns. A battery of these new cannon can fire 60 shots a minute, and they have a range of over five miles. The new gun is provided with an appliance to prevent the recoil. After the first shot a sort of spur attached to the end of the gun carriage bores into the ground, so that the gunners may remain quietly standing by the piece and reload without the loss of time. The imperial parliament has shown itself far more patriotic in the matter than one might be tempted to believe from the recent utterances of Emperor William, for the $50,000,000 needed for the transformation was voted almost unanimously by the reichstag, even the socialists giving their consent thereto, and, what is more, keeping the whole affair secret. Inasmuch as Germany's victory in the war of 1870 was admittedly due principally to her artillery, the importance of the new armament is calculated to excite an immense amount of attention abroad.

Russia has a method all its own for dealing with professional labor agitators and walking delegates. Sixty of them, who had assembled at Moscow for the purpose of organizing a huge strike, have just been arrested, all on the same day, and exiled to Siberia "administratively"—that is to say, without trial. The majority of them are said to have been men of university education, who had, however, worked for a short time as common mill hands, with the object of winning the confidence of the laboring classes.

In Austria a law has just been passed making it a punishable offense for parents to take young children into bed with them. This arbitrary interference with "the liberty of the subject" has been rendered necessary by the large number of deaths of infants through being overlaid, the annual average having been for some time past as much as 4,000. In England, where no such law as yet prevails, the average is even still larger, possibly in consequence of the extensive insurance of one kind and another on infant life.

There is no longer any question about the future of the African policy of the Italian government. Prime Minister Rudini has expressed his determination to diminish Italy's military occupation of Abyssinia gradually until it extends no farther than Massaua. With regard to Kassala, he declares that it would be necessary for Italy to consult England as to its restitution to Egypt, a retrocession which is quite likely to be opposed by Abyssinia. Under no circumstances, however, will Italy hold Kassala beyond the time needed for its surrender to the Anglo-Egyptian authorities.

It is a pity that no advantage is taken by people in America of the opening up of Russia, with all its undeveloped resources, to foreign capital and enterprise. Within the last 12 months alone little Belgium has invested no less than $60,000,000 of its money in the coal and iron industries of the Muscovite empire, England as well as France following rapidly in the wake of King Leopold's enterprising subjects. Yet American capitalists would find a far more cordial welcome in Russia than those of most European nations and would certainly receive from the imperial authorities every possible advantage over the Germans and the English, neither of whom are popular.

Public opinion in London, especially in official circles, is much exercised by a report current to the effect that Emperor William has just concluded arrangements with the king of the Belgians for the grant by the latter of large and important territorial concessions in the Kongo Free State to a syndicate of German financiers and merchants. Indeed, it is asserted that the scheme provides for the formation of a German chartered company subsidiary to the Kongo Free State, but taking over most of the powers and the responsibilities of the latter. It remains to be seen whether the scheme does not constitute an infringement of the international treaty which called into life and created the Kongo Free State convention, under the terms of which alone King Leopold holds possession of the Kongo valley.

Belgium's government, which owns all the railroads in the kingdom, has put forward a curious defense for resisting the claim for damages brought by the widow and orphan children of a merchant of the name of Lesaffre, who was killed in an accident caused by a train running off the line near Bruges. The state argues that if the suit is based on the transport contract constituted by the railroad ticket, the heirs of the deceased have no right to any other indemnity than that arising from "the nonarrival of the merchandise at destination;" secondly, that M. Lesaffre, having been killed on the spot, was unable to will to his heirs an action for damages on account of suffering endured; thirdly, that the heirs must explain the cause of the accident and prove satisfactorily where the state was at fault.

MR. BRYAN has not yet explained the cause of the sudden rise in the price of wheat. Perhaps this is because Mr. Bryan can't explain it.

THE farmer who has not yet sold his wheat, stands a mighty good chance of reaping a second harvest if he but holds to it a few weeks longer.

HAD A WARM TIME

Before the McClurg Franchise Was Settled

MR. OLNHAUSEN'S POSITION

Did Not Meet the Views of Other Members of Council, and There Was Exchange After Exchange of Tart Expressions—Mr. Challis on an Amendment—The Concern Must Pay $200 a Year and do Some Other Things.

Council talked for hours last evening with all members present but Mr. Ashbaugh.

The minutes were read and approved and the bill posters ordinance was read for the second time. The clerk will furnish each member with a copy of it before the next meeting. An ordinance to establish grade lines on East alley was read for the third time, but as no one seemed to know where the alley is located it was referred to street committee with instructions to report at the next meeting.

The next thing on the program was the W. J. McClurg gas ordinance. Clerk Hanley reported that he had the original ordinance, the one amended by council, the one adopted at the special meeting and one submitted by Mr. Olnhausen. The one presented by Mr. Olnhausen was read, and differed from that granted the Ohio Valley Gas company in that the company were asked to give $25,000 bond, and the time of laying mains was restricted, except between April 1 and November 1. Dr. Marshall thought the bond was high, and said so, but Mr. Olnhausen said: "They have lots of money."

"I don't suppose they want to use it all," retorted Mr. Marshall.

The ordinance adopted at the special meeting was read and Clerk Hanley asked if they wanted to hear the others, but Doctor Marshall said he thought that was enough.

Everybody started to talk until Mr. Stewart said: "We will make no headway this way. If we are going to pass the ordinance we should take it up by sections. We are simply doing nothing now."

The Olnhausen ordinance was taken up, and Clerk Hanley read the first section, and it was adopted without a murmur.

Section two was amended by Dr. Marshall, by adding "that the pipes shall be of wrought iron, with screw joints of the most approved design and quality," and striking out the part referring to $25,000 bond, inasmuch as he deemed it a hardship to ask the company to give a bond on every section. He suggested that a bond clause be added to the ordinance, and the section was adopted as amended.

Section three was amended by saying that all pipes shall be laid two feet below the grade, instead of three feet below the surface.

Section four was adopted, and section five went through after the part referring to April 1 and November 1 had been stricken out. Section seven met with no objection, and in section eight the word "illuminating" was added, after the word "heating." Section nine was passed by, but when section ten was read, the trouble began. The section is where council asked the company to donate all gas for heating and lighting the city buildings. Mr. McClurg thought it was too much to ask the company to supply the city with gas for heating and lighting, and suggested that it be made 50,000 cubic feet and all used over that be subject to a discount of 20 per cent, and that the word heating be stricken out, as it would bankrupt the company if allowed to remain.

Doctor Marshall said that under the circumstances gas would amount to $700 or $1,000 a year, and since finding out the true state of affairs he did think it was probably a little harsh on the company.

"What is the difference between natural and artificial gas?" asked Mr. Olnhausen.

"If they want to buy natural gas and supply us with it, all right," replied the doctor.

Mr. McClurg said it would be unreasonable to ask his company to supply gas for heating purposes, and Mr. Olnhausen said, "How do they expect to get people to pay for gas if it costs so much? Where are they going to get their trade here?"

"That is their business," promptly said the doctor.

"Other gas companies have robbed you since they came in here, and now you are going to let another company do the same," came from Mr. Olnhausen.

"If we are not entitled to free gas, then let them take their ordinance and get out. Our gas bill was only $140 last year."

"I would move that they furnish 200,000 cubic feet of gas for public buildings," said the doctor.

The motion was seconded by Mr. Cain.

"That amounts to $40. Is that the idea?" asked Mr. Olnhausen.

We gave them power to furnish gas at $1.25 per thousand," said the doctor. "You can figure that at 10 cents or $10 if you want to. It is 200,000 feet of gas just the same."

Mr. Stewart remarked that by the price charged by the company, it would amount to $250, and it would be better for the company to furnish the city with natural gas.

Mr. Marshall took the floor in defense of his position, and said: "We can't have too many gas companies or too many electric light companies. I do this for fear of putting an obstruction on them whereby we might lose a competing company. It is 50 per cent more than we ever before asked for a franchise, and I believe the city could afford to pay for lighting and heating all the public buildings, than to prevent the consumers from having a competing company. If these people would rather pay for heating our buildings, I am perfectly willing, but I am not in favor of placing anything on them that would bar a competing line."

"I don't see any competing line coming in here at all," interrupted Mr. Olnhausen. "With the lines here you pay 20 or 25 cents for gas, and here is one that wants to charge $1.25. I can't see where the competition is."

Mr. Stewart suggested that it be made a "lump sum," and Mr. Olnhausen suggested $500 as the proper amount, and Mr. McClurg stated that they would not accept it, but under the circumstances would accept the 200,000 feet clause.

Doctor Marshall then read a letter from Herman Dillion, recorder of Beaver county, in which he stated they had an artificial gas plant with a capital stock of $75,000, and charged $1.50 per thousand for gas, while the city did not get a cent except a special discount of 20 per cent.

Mr. Stewart said he didn't like the 200,000 feet idea, as the city could not use it. It was like buying an elephant and having nothing to do with it.

"Yes, but if the elephant costs nothing it is not hard to keep," remarked Mr. Marshall.

Mr. Stewart amended the original motion by moving that $200 be assessed the company each year, and Mr. Olnhausen seconded, but the amendment lost Messrs. Challis, Marshall, Peach, Cain voting no. The original motion was then put and carried, Olnhausen and Stewart voting no. The section was adopted, and Mr. Stewart woke up and said: "I had another amendment to offer." "You are out of order, one amendment is enough anyway," said Mr. Peach.

Sections 11 and 12 were adopted. When section 13, which gave council the privilege of regulating the price of gas, was reached there was a general kick and Mr. Stewart wanted a clause inserted whereby the price could be arbitrated, as provided for in the electric light contract.

Mr. Marshall said the clause did not amount to the snap of a finger, and the price of electricity would not change in the city in ten years. The section of the ordinance was unjust, and would allow the Bridgewater and Ohio Valley Gas companies to elect a council in future years if competition became heavy, that could set the price so low that it would drive the McClurg company out of business.

"There is no competition about this," declared Mr. Olnhausen. "The other gas companies are not squealing."

"You will see who will squeal inside of six months," laughingly replied the doctor.

Mr. McClurg said they would not accept the ordinance with the section left in, and Mr. Horwell was called to the chair and Mr. Peach made a speech. He said the section was unjust, and it was not right to ask anybody to invest a dollar if council had the right to regulate the price of the material they sold, as no one could tell when a council would make the price so low it would drive the company out of business. Upon motion of Mr. Marshall the clause was stricken out, and one leaving the price after five years to arbitration, one party to be selected by council, one by the company and the two to select a third, was carried, all voting yes but Olnhausen and Challis.

Mr. Olnhausen then drifted back to the city receiving only 200,000 feet of gas and wanted to amend it by inserting $200, but was declared out of order. He sat down and prevailed upon Mr. Challis to put the motion, he having voted in the affirmative, and the fun began again. Mr. Marshall opposed it strongly while Mr. Stewart again championed its cause on the ground that 200,000 feet of gas could not be used. Mr. Marshall said it could be used for street lights if for nothing else. The amendment was carried, Messrs Marshall, Cain and Peach voting no.

Mr. Peach in declaring the vote said: "The motion is carried but it is a very poor one, and you will see the day you will regret it."

Mr. Marshall asked what was going to be done with the money, and Mr. Stewart said it would be used for paying for gas in public buildings.

Mr. Olnhausen was called to the chair and Mr. Peach said: "Is it justice to this company to take $200 and pay it to the Ohio Valley Gas company for something they got for not one cent? If there is anyone here in behalf of the Ohio Valley company let him speak and say if he thinks it is right."

Mr. Olnhausen jumped to his feet and began to explain about this not being a competing line, but Doctor Marshall headed him off by saying: "If this is not a competing line why the interest taken in it by the representatives of the other companies. I think as Mr. Peach. It is one of the most flaring things in the way of injustice I ever saw. I don't believe that motion was right."

A section was added requiring the company to give a bond of $5,000, and the ordinance passed under a suspension of the rules. Council then adjourned.

IT IS ALL RIGHT.

Mr. McClurg Thinks His Company Will Be Satisfied.

W. J. McClurg when interviewed last evening by a reporter in regard to the franchise granted his company, replied that he thought it would suit them very well, as it would not cost them as much to pay $200 as to furnish 200,000 feet of gas. Furthermore if this city ever desired to purchase gas from them it would have to pay the regular rates. They now have a man working on plans for their line in the city and expect to commence work as soon as possible. Mr. McClurg left this morning for Steubenville but will return next Friday, and view two sites that the company have in view.

Good For the Railroad.

The Cleveland and Pittsburg railroad is doing an enormous centennial business. Not only is the lower town a Mecca for sightseers from this city, but from other towns as well. At 10 o'clock this morning over 1,500 had been carried to Steubenville by this road. The train that left Wellsville carried over 500 people, seven special coaches from Irondale and Salineville took 300, the early train from Bellaire brought 278 and the first train from Pittsburg carried over 350. This is a record that has seldom been equaled.

MR. OLNHAUSEN'S POSITION

Did Not Meet the Views of Other Members of Council, and There Was Exchange After Exchange of Tart Expressions—Mr. Challis on an Amendment—The Concern Must Pay $200 a Year and do Some Other Things.

Council talked for hours last evening with all members present but Mr. Ashbaugh.

The minutes were read and approved and the bill posters ordinance was read for the second time. The clerk will furnish each member with a copy of it before the next meeting. An ordinance to establish grade lines on East alley was read for the third time, but as no one seemed to know where the alley is located it was referred to street committee with instructions to report at the next meeting.

The next thing on the program was the W. J. McClurg gas ordinance. Clerk Hanley reported that he had the original ordinance, the one amended by council, the one adopted at the special meeting and one submitted by Mr. Olnhausen. The one presented by Mr. Olnhausen was read, and differed from that granted the Ohio Valley Gas company in that the company were asked to give $25,000 bond, and the time of laying mains was restricted, except between April 1 and November 1. Dr. Marshall thought the bond was high, and said so, but Mr. Olnhausen said: "They have lots of money."

"I don't suppose they want to use it all," retorted Mr. Marshall.

The ordinance adopted at the special meeting was read and Clerk Hanley asked if they wanted to hear the others, but Doctor Marshall said he thought that was enough.

Everybody started to talk until Mr. Stewart said: "We will make no headway this way. If we are going to pass the ordinance we should take it up by sections. We are simply doing nothing now."

The Olnhausen ordinance was taken up, and Clerk Hanley read the first section, and it was adopted without a murmur.

Section two was amended by Dr. Marshall, by adding "that the pipes shall be of wrought iron, with screw joints of the most approved design and quality," and striking out the part referring to $25,000 bond, inasmuch as he deemed it a hardship to ask the company to give a bond on every section. He suggested that a bond clause be added to the ordinance, and the section was adopted as amended.

Section three was amended by saying that all pipes shall be laid two feet below the grade, instead of three feet below the surface.

County Auditors Can List the Telephone Company.

MILLIONS IN ITS PROPERTY

The State Has Never Derived Benefit From the Corporation's Investment, and It Is Possible That a Move Will Be Made to Collect Back Taxes.

The Bell Telephone company is to be mulcted of taxes to the amount of about $90,000 a year as the result of the decision today of the state board of equalization. If back taxes are assessed, as it is the intention now that they will be, for five years the minimum amount will be $355,000.

The Bell Telephone company has thus far escaped taxation because it is entirely separate from the lesser companies. The lesser companies in the various cities and towns of Ohio are now paying taxes under the Nichols law, which assesses them on the basis of their stock valuation. The only stock of the Bell company proper outside of blocks in the lesser companies is in the telephone boxes, receivers, etc., which are rented to the lesser companies at $14 a box per year. The Bell company has refused to pay taxes on the income derived in this way. The Western Union and other companies, which are taxed under the Nichols law, consider this an injustice, and the equalization board agree in this view of the case. As there are approximately 25,000 telephone boxes in the state, the Bell's income from this source is estimated to be $350,000, which at 3 1/2 per cent would produce $90,000 taxes. The taxes for the last five years are computed to be about $75,000 a year. State Auditor Guilbert will send to each county auditor a letter instructing him to place these taxes on the duplicate.

The assessment made by the board is reached by capitalizing the $450,000 income from box rental at 6 per cent, which produces $5,833,000. The board estimates that the company has this amount of property in Ohio. Taking off one-third of this value to put an appraisalment on the property equal to that on real estate makes the value $3,800,000.

Low Rates.

Special reductions in fare over the Pennsylvania lines will be granted for numerous events to take place this summer in various parts of the United States, in addition to local excursions. Some of the points to which tickets will be sold and dates of sale are as follows:

To Nashville, Tenn., daily to October 15, for Tennessee Centennial and International exposition.

To Winona assembly grounds, Eagle Lake, (near Warsaw, Ind.) May 15 to August 31, for annual assembly and summer school.

To Indianapolis, September 8 and 9, for National Encampment Sons of Veterans.

The reduced rates over the Pennsylvania lines will not be restricted to members of the organizations mentioned, but may be taken advantage of by the public generally. Excursion tickets may be obtained at ticket offices on the Pennsylvania system and will also be sold over this route by connecting railways. Any Pennsylvania line ticket or passenger agent will furnish desired information concerning rates, time of trains, return limit, and other details, to all applicants, or the same may be obtained by addressing Samuel Moody, assistant general passenger agent, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Excursions to Nashville.

The Tennessee Centennial and International exposition will be in progress at Nashville, Tenn., from May until October inclusive. Special low rate round trip ticket will be sold via Pennsylvania lines for this event. Full particulars concerning fare, dates of sales, time of train, etc., may be obtained upon application to the nearest Pennsylvania line ticket agent, or by addressing D. C. Klondyke

The Land of Golden Nuggets.

JOSEPH LADUE,

the new Bonanza King of the Klondyke Gold Regions, gives the facts. His book reads like "The Arabian Nights," BUT Joseph Ladue KNOWS whereof he writes. He was the first man on the spot when the first gold was discovered last August, 1896. He located one rich claim and immediately purchased twelve others at a low price before their value was known. He has refused $100,000 for any ONE of these claims, as they are rich with virgin gold nuggets, beyond the dream of avarice. Joseph Ladue then at the mouth of the Klondyke and Yukon Rivers, by erecting the first house in the region in September, one month after the gold was first discovered. He bought 178 acres from the government on the city site where his town lots 150x50 are now selling for $5,000 each.

Mr. Ladue was fortunate enough to be successful in his trading post investments to have on hand ample capital to carry out his plans, and there is no man living who is better posted on Alaska and the great North West Territories than Mr. Joseph Ladue. He has just returned from that country to his old home in Schuler Falls, N. Y., where he passed a large portion of his boyhood and early manhood. Mr. Ladue left his home nearly twenty years ago to seek his fortune in the west going first to the Black Hills, where he was successful in gold mining, thence to Arizona and the Pacific coast and finally located in Alaska and the northwest, where he has covered almost the entire country since 1882. Mr. Ladue is a typical pioneer: strong, hardy and resolute—a man of iron as one must needs be to go through the hardships he has and come out with a constitution unbroken and unimpaired at about the age of 43. Mr. Ladue has not only worked his muscles to good advantage to himself with the result of an abundance of the world's goods, far beyond the dreams of men, but he has evidently all this time been closely observing the conditions of that strange country—the Yukon Valley—which has so suddenly become one of the great centers upon which human interest throughout the world is focussed.

When the wonderful stories began to come down from the Yukon country it was naturally concluded that it was at least half exaggeration. That any such amount of gold could be taken in so short a time from a country like that under the most most unfavorable conditions was held to be incredible. But when the great bags of virgin gold began to be poured out upon mint counters in San Francisco under the eyes of the whole world (for modern journalism does this, annihilating time and space) people began to wonder and the wonder grew day by day as the real facts were disclosed, and now people who are well informed as to the facts declare that half the truth has not been told of the golden treasures of the Yukon Valley.

As we have already said, there is no man today alive who knows more about this wonderful country than does Mr. Ladue. What makes his talk of it especially interesting and reliable is the fact that his knowledge of it is practical. It has not been gained from hearsay nor from desultory visits made now and then at certain favorable seasons of the year, but from steady living there through the long summer days and the long winter nights, year in and year out for 15 years, where he now owns the best mining claims on the Klondyke and its tributaries.

In presenting his book to the public we do so knowing that it is by an authority on the subject of which he writes. His first work entitled

"Klondyke Nuggets"

is a brief description of the new gold regions, and anyone desiring authentic information should not fail to avail themselves of our

Hopes of Youth.
How bright those summer silvery stars
That deck the sky at night!
When morning comes, they fade away
And vanish from our sight.
Like these are many hopes of you—
As fleeting and as bright.

Some fondly dream of happiness
In fortune's glided track,
And list to pleasure's siren song,
And follow at her beck,
While others strive with fame's bright wreath
Their honored brows to deck.

The hopes of youth are numberless
As sands on ocean's shore.
A wave of time sweeps over them—
They're gone for evermore.
When manhood comes, no trace is left
Of these bright dreams of yore.

MUST PAY THE RATE

County Auditors Can List the Telephone Company.

MILLIONS IN ITS PROPERTY

The State Has Never Derived Benefit From the Corporation's Investment, and It Is Possible That a Move Will Be Made to Collect Back Taxes.

The Bell Telephone company is to be mulcted of taxes to the amount of about $90,000 a year as the result of the decision today of the state board of equalization. If back taxes are assessed, as it is the intention now that they will be, for five years the minimum amount will be $355,000.

The Bell Telephone company has thus far escaped taxation because it is entirely separate from the lesser companies. The lesser companies in the various cities and towns of Ohio are now paying taxes under the Nichols law, which assesses them on the basis of their stock valuation. The only stock of the Bell company proper outside of blocks in the lesser companies is in the telephone boxes, receivers, etc., which are rented to the lesser companies at $14 a box per year. The Bell company has refused to pay taxes on the income derived in this way. The Western Union and other companies, which are taxed under the Nichols law, consider this an injustice, and the equalization board agree in this view of the case. As there are approximately 25,000 telephone boxes in the state, the Bell's income from this source is estimated to be $350,000, which at 3 1/2 per cent would produce $90,000 taxes. The taxes for the last five years are computed to be about $75,000 a year. State Auditor Guilbert will send to each county auditor a letter instructing him to place these taxes on the duplicate.

The assessment made by the board is reached by capitalizing the $450,000 income from box rental at 6 per cent, which produces $5,833,000. The board estimates that the company has this amount of property in Ohio. Taking off one-third of this value to put an appraisalment on the property equal to that on real estate makes the value $3,800,000.

Low Rates.

Special reductions in fare over the Pennsylvania lines will be granted for numerous events to take place this summer in various parts of the United States, in addition to local excursions. Some of the points to which tickets will be sold and dates of sale are as follows:

To Nashville, Tenn., daily to October 15, for Tennessee Centennial and International exposition.

To Winona assembly grounds, Eagle Lake, (near Warsaw, Ind.) May 15 to August 31, for annual assembly and summer school.

To Indianapolis, September 8 and 9, for National Encampment Sons of Veterans.

The reduced rates over the Pennsylvania lines will not be restricted to members of the organizations mentioned, but may be taken advantage of by the public generally. Excursion tickets may be obtained at ticket offices on the Pennsylvania system and will also be sold over this route by connecting railways. Any Pennsylvania line ticket or passenger agent will furnish desired information concerning rates, time of trains, return limit, and other details, to all applicants, or the same may be obtained by addressing Samuel Moody, assistant general passenger agent, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Excursions to Nashville.

The Tennessee Centennial and International exposition will be in progress at Nashville, Tenn., from May until October inclusive. Special low rate round trip ticket will be sold via Pennsylvania lines for this event. Full particulars concerning fare, dates of sales, time of train, etc., may be obtained upon application to the nearest Pennsylvania line ticket agent, or by addressing D. C. MacWatters, district passenger agent, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Klondyke

The Land of Golden Nuggets.

JOSEPH LADUE,

the new Bonanza King of the Klondyke Gold Regions, gives the facts. His book reads like "The Arabian Nights," BUT Joseph Ladue KNOWS whereof he writes. He was the first man on the spot when the first gold was discovered last August, 1896. He located one rich claim and immediately purchased twelve others at a low price before their value was known. He has refused $100,000 for any ONE of these claims, as they are rich with virgin gold nuggets, beyond the dream of avarice. Joseph Ladue then at the mouth of the Klondyke and Yukon Rivers, by erecting the first house in the region in September, one month after the gold was first discovered. He bought 178 acres from the government on the city site where his town lots 150x50 are now selling for $5,000 each.

Mr. Ladue was fortunate enough to be successful in his trading post investments to have on hand ample capital to carry out his plans, and there is no man living who is better posted on Alaska and the great North West Territories than Mr. Joseph Ladue. He has just returned from that country to his old home in Schuler Falls, N. Y., where he passed a large portion of his boyhood and early manhood. Mr. Ladue left his home nearly twenty years ago to seek his fortune in the west going first to the Black Hills, where he was successful in gold mining, thence to Arizona and the Pacific coast and finally located in Alaska and the northwest, where he has covered almost the entire country since 1882. Mr. Ladue is a typical pioneer: strong, hardy and resolute—a man of iron as one must needs be to go through the hardships he has and come out with a constitution unbroken and unimpaired at about the age of 43. Mr. Ladue has not only worked his muscles to good advantage to himself with the result of an abundance of the world's goods, far beyond the dreams of men, but he has evidently all this time been closely observing the conditions of that strange country—the Yukon Valley—which has so suddenly become one of the great centers upon which human interest throughout the world is focussed.

When the wonderful stories began to come down from the Yukon country it was naturally concluded that it was at least half exaggeration. That any such amount of gold could be taken in so short a time from a country like that under the most most unfavorable conditions was held to be incredible. But when the great bags of virgin gold began to be poured out upon mint counters in San Francisco under the eyes of the whole world (for modern journalism does this, annihilating time and space) people began to wonder and the wonder grew day by day as the real facts were disclosed, and now people who are well informed as to the facts declare that half the truth has not been told of the golden treasures of the Yukon Valley.

As we have already said, there is no man today alive who knows more about this wonderful country than does Mr. Ladue. What makes his talk of it specially interesting and reliable is the fact that his knowledge of it is practical. It has not been gained from hearsay nor from desultory visits made now and then at certain favorable seasons of the year, but from steady living there through the long summer days and the long winter nights, year in and year out for 15 years, where he now owns the best mining claims on the Klondyke and its tributaries.

In presenting his book to the public we do so knowing that it is by an authority on the subject of which he writes. His first work entitled

is a brief description of the new gold regions, and anyone desiring authentic information should not fail to avail themselves of our

which places the facts in the possession of our readers. REMEMBER, that our office is the sole distributing point for this locality, having closed exclusive arrangements with Mr. Ladue's publishers.

The cover of the work is beautifully printed in red and gold, the gold showing one of the author's nuggets as nearly as it is possible to reproduce it on paper.

It is easy to secure a copy of "KLONDYKE NUGGETS." Cut out the Coupon and follow instructions.

COUPON FOR "KLONDYKE NUGGETS."

Cut out this Coupon and bring it with you as an evidence that you are a reader of the NEWS REVIEW, and Ten Cents in cash and a copy of "Klondyke Nuggets," by Joseph Ladue, the Bonanza King of the new gold regions, will be handed to you.

Cut out this coupon and send it together with 12c in stamps for clerical work and mailing expenses, and we will send a copy of "Klondyke Nuggets" to your address. Write very clearly and give your name and address in full.

Remember, you should not delay, as you will be unable to secure this valuable work on the gold region in any other way.

Hopes of Youth.

How bright those summer silvery stars
That deck the sky at night!
When morning comes, they fade away
And vanish from our sight.
Like these are many hopes of you—
As fleeting and as bright.

Some fondly dream of happiness
In fortune's glided track,
And list to pleasure's siren song,
And follow at her beck,
While others strive with fame's bright
wraith
Their honored brows to deck.

The hopes of youth are numberless
As sands on ocean's shore.
A wave of time sweeps over them—
They're gone for evermore.
When manhood comes, no trace is left
Of these bright dreams of yore.

A TALK ON BOWLERS

Prof. G. Frederick Wright's Interesting Lecture.

WONDERFUL GLACIAL DEPOSITS

They Are Found All Through This Section of the Country—A Few Words on Greenland—Something About the Headwaters of Beaver River.

A large audience assembled in the Association auditorium last evening to hear the lecture "The Ice Age in North America" by Prof. G. Frederick Wright, of Oberlin college. Superintendent Mc-Donald, of Wellsville, introduced the speaker, who in part said:

"The Ohio river is one of the most wonderful sights one could see. On one side of the river you will find large hills composed of rock and coal, and on the other you will find an exact duplicate.
I have followed this wonderful stream from Louisville up to its headwaters, the Allegheny and Monongahela, and I find the geological survey the same.
Suppose a river should be at work 1000 years scraping off one foot of its bed, in a million years it would scrape away 1000 feet. East Liverpool is built on a terrace of gravel about 120 feet above the river. This gravel is a river deposit, and I found in it at the old cemetery specimens of gravel that cannot be found from the Gulf of Mexico to Hudson Bay.
You would have to go 5,000 miles before you could find a handful of gravel such as you would find in this city.

"What is wanted in this city is a geological museum. There is an excellent opportunity offered by the ground
I have just spoken of. In the yard of the West End school I saw the largest granite boulder it has ever been my lot to examine. I am told it was found in the excavation. The question that now presents itself is how did it get there. Steubenville and Martin's Ferry are built on terraces like Liverpool but the farther south you go the elevation grows less.

"Glacier ice is an accumulation of ice, and is unlike that formed on the Ohio
and other rivers in the winter season.
Greenland is surrounded with this kind of ice. It is one to two miles thick and eight and nine thousand feet in height.
The entire island is surrounded by this wonderful waste of snow. Ice has motion. Just as cool tar and thick molasses, it flows. Take a large piece of ice, suspend it at the ends, and within a short time you will find it giving in the center.
This is an experiment that has often been successfully tried. No one supposed 100 years ago that ice moves as it does. In going to Greenland one comes in contact with hundreds of icebergs.
These mountains of ice are only pieces of ice glaciers from that northern island.
We find that these boulders of which I speak are numerous in the northern part of the country, and I have often gone many miles to see and admire a large boulder. Large boulders are found in Illinois, Kentucky and Ohio. They can be traced from where they now lie to other places. While in Canada I secured specimens of granite boulders, and took them to my school. The scholars were given an excursion and asked to find, if possible, one to match those in the school. So far 30 duplicates have been secured. This prompts the sayings of the Canadian geologists that the granite boulders found in Ohio came from Canada thousands of years ago. The nigger head is another name that is applied to the large black boulders in the southern part of this state. They are rightly called granite.
Carbondale in lower Illinois is the most southern point where these granite boulders are found. Lecturing in Nebraska a few years ago I found the foundation of a school house built of boulders that had no business being in the state.
But they were found there after being brought from the ice formed in the Sioux Falls in Dakota.

"In the city of Oberlin the mud when stirred up is not less than 75 feet deep.
That is to say you will have to dig this far before you can find solid rock. This is caused by the theory I spoke of in the first part of the lecture.
"At the headwaters of Beaver river you will find some wonderful glacial deposits.
These deposits are hundreds of feet deep.
In the Illinois, Kanawha and other valleys there can be seen today marks of ancient floods, and these marks are only boulders.
"Theories respecting the causes of the glacial epoch fall in two classes, styled cosmical and the terrestrial. Among the latter theories are included the following: That the glacial period is due to a decrease in the original heat of the planet; to the shifting of the polar axis;
to a former period of greater moisture of the atmosphere; to changes in the distribution of land and water; to the elevation of the lands in northern Europe and America to a higher level than that now occupied. What was the cause of the glacial period? The first answer has frequently been, "That is none of our business" still it is by the interpretation of facts that causes are discovered, and the collection of facts concerning the glaciation of North America has advanced so rapidly

the past few years that it is now high time to consider more fully their meaning and discuss the subject anew if for no other reason than for the sake of finding out how little is known about it.

Refused the Wrong Beggar.
"I never refuse the plea of a beggar," says a leading member of congress.
"You must not use my name and advertise me as a philanthropist, for I am not. It is simply a matter of necessity with me. I am obliged to give something to every beggar, or I could not sleep at night. I made a bad mistake once, and I would rather give occasionally to the unworthy than to ever deny assistance to the worthy.

"Once upon a time I was in St. Louis on business. It was winter, and you know how cold that town can be when it tries hard. I was out on the street at 11 o'clock one bitter night when a chap struck me for a dime. He was poorly clad, looked hungry and sick, and I ought to have handed out the money at once. I was just brute enough not to do it. He followed me 100 feet, begging and pleading, and I finally threatened to have him arrested. He turned away with a sob in his throat, and I went on to the hotel.

"There was a big snowstorm that night, and next morning they found him in a drift, frozen stark and stiff. I saw the body and recognized it. The pale face was pinched and drawn with hunger and suffering, and the eyes were as wide open as yours—great big blue eyes, sunken back in their sockets and staring at me in an awful way. Yes, sir, they seemed to be fastened on me alone and to follow me as I moved.
When I heard car drivers, draymen, bootblacks and newsboys saying how gladly they would have given the poor wretch a quarter to buy lodgings and food, I sneaked away, feeling that I was a murderer. It hurt me more than I can tell you. I don't wait now to be asked for alms. I give to some who are, no doubt, undeserving, but I take my chances on that. That thing rests like a murder on my conscience, and nothing like it shall happen again."—St. Paul Globe.

AN ARGUMENT:—There are eggs and eggs; the egg of yesterday looks, feels, measures and weighs like the egg of last month, but there's a slight difference in another respect, and that difference is worth money. It's just so with printing; the difference between the good work and poor is slight to every time. It costs money, but it makes more—it changes the printing bills from an expense to an investment.

In the yard of the West End school I saw the largest granite boulder it has ever been my lot to examine. I am told it was found in the excavation. The question that now presents itself is how did it get there. Steubenville and Martin's Ferry are built on terraces like Liverpool but the farther south you go the elevation grows less.

"Glacier ice is an accumulation of ice, and is unlike that formed on the Ohio and other rivers in the winter season. Greenland is surrounded with this kind of ice. It is one to two miles thick and eight and nine thousand feet in height. The entire island is surrounded by this wonderful waste of snow. Ice has motion. Just as cool tar and thick molasses, it flows. Take a large piece of ice, suspend it at the ends, and within a short time you will find it giving in the center. This is an experiment that has often been successfully tried. No one supposed 100 years ago that ice moves as it does. In going to Greenland one comes in contact with hundreds of icebergs. These mountains of ice are only pieces of ice glaciers from that northern island. We find that these boulders of which I speak are numerous in the northern part of the country, and I have often gone many miles to see and admire a large boulder. Large boulders are found in Illinois, Kentucky and Ohio. They can be traced from where they now lie to other places. While in Canada I secured specimens of granite boulders, and took them to my school. The scholars were given an excursion and asked to find, if possible, one to match those in the school. So far 30 duplicates have been secured. This prompts the sayings of the Canadian geologists that the granite boulders found in Ohio came from Canada thousands of years ago. The nigger head is another name that is applied to the large black boulders in the southern part of this state. They are rightly called granite. Carbondale in lower Illinois is the most southern point where these granite boulders are found. Lecturing in Nebraska a few years ago I found the foundation of a school house built of boulders that had no business being in the state. But they were found there after being brought from the ice formed in the Sioux Falls in Dakota.

"In the city of Oberlin the mud when stirred up is not less than 75 feet deep. That is to say you will have to dig this far before you can find solid rock. This is caused by the theory I spoke of in the first part of the lecture.

"At the headwaters of Beaver river you will find some wonderful glacial deposits. These deposits are hundreds of feet deep. In the Illinois, Kanawha and other valleys there can be seen today marks of ancient floods, and these marks are only boulders.

"Theories respecting the causes of the glacial epoch fall in two classes, styled comical and the terrestrial. Among the latter theories are included the following: That the glacial period is due to a decrease in the original heat of the planet; to the shifting of the polar axis; to a former period of greater moisture of the atmosphere; to changes in the distribution of land and water; to the elevation of the lands in northern Europe and America to a higher level than that now occupied. What was the cause of the glacial period? The first answer has frequently been, 'That is none of our business' still it is by the interpretation of facts that causes are discovered, and the collection of facts concerning the glaciation of North America has advanced so rapidly the past few years that it is now high time to consider more fully their meaning and discuss the subject anew if for no other reason than for the sake of finding out how little is known about it.

Refused the Wrong Beggar.

"I never refuse the plea of a beggar," says a leading member of congress. "You must not use my name and advertise me as a philanthropist, for I am not. It is simply a matter of necessity with me. I am obliged to give something to every beggar, or I could not sleep at night. I made a bad mistake once, and I would rather give occasionally to the unworthy than to ever deny assistance to the worthy.

"Once upon a time I was in St. Louis on business. It was winter, and you know how cold that town can be when it tries hard. I was out on the street at 11 o'clock one bitter night when a chap struck me for a dime. He was poorly clad, looked hungry and sick, and I ought to have handed out the money at once. I was just brute enough not to do it. He followed me 100 feet, begging and pleading, and I finally threatened to have him arrested. He turned away with a sob in his throat, and I went on to the hotel.

"There was a big snowstorm that night, and next morning they found him in a drift, frozen stark and stiff. I saw the body and recognized it. The pale face was pinched and drawn with hunger and suffering, and the eyes were as wide open as yours—great big blue eyes, sunken back in their sockets and staring at me in an awful way. Yes, sir, they seemed to be fastened on me alone and to follow me as I moved. When I heard car drivers, draymen, bootblacks and newsboys saying how glad they would have given the poor wretch a quarter to buy lodgings and food, I sneaked away, feeling that I was a murderer. It hurt me more than I can tell you. I don't wait now to be asked for alms. I give to some who are, no doubt, undeserving, but I take my chances on that. That thing rests like a murder on my conscience, and nothing like it shall happen again."—St. Paul Globe.

STORY OF A WAR SONG.

Composer of the Music For "We Are Coming Father Abraham."

The man who composed the music for Whittier's song, "We Are Coming, Father Abraham, Three Hundred Thousand Strong," is an old and somewhat decrepit piano tuner, who carries on his business in Windom, Minn. His name is A. B. Irving.

One day soon after Lincoln's call for 300,000 more men Irving, then a young man, was on his way to Defiance, O., from Fort Wayne for the purpose of singing at a political and loyal meeting. He had considerable reputation as a composer and singer and the Republicans had asked him to come and help them. On the way he read the poem which had just been published. Irving studied it, formulated a tune, hummed it and got the rhythm, and that evening at the Defiance meeting he sang the song for the first time. When he had finished and the last echoes had died away, men mounted their chairs with wild enthusiasm, swung their hats and broke loose in cheers that rang with feeling. He sang it again and again and they would scarcely let him rest.

The next night he sang the song at Fort Wayne and again aroused the same enthusiasm. He wrote out the music and sent it to the publisher who had handled what he had composed, with instructions to publish it on his usual terms of royalty. It was published and inside of a month more than 40,000 copies had been sold. In a few days the publisher failed, and Irving never received a dollar.—Exchange.

When perfumes are not disagreeable to a patient, it is well to use them freely in a sickroom, as they are a protection against contagion. It is said that if lavender water is sprayed through the living rooms of houses situated in a malarial locality it will prevent the occupants from contracting the disease.

STORY OF A WAR SONG.

Composer of the Music For "We Are Coming, Father Abraham."

The man who composed the music for Whittier's song, "We Are Coming, Father Abraham, Three Hundred Thousand Strong," is an old and somewhat decrepit piano tuner, who carries on his business in Windom, Minn. His name is A. B. Irving.

One day soon after Lincoln's call for 300,000 more men Irving, then a young man, was on his way to Defiance, O., from Fort Wayne for the purpose of singing at a political and loyal meeting. He had considerable reputation as a composer and singer and the Republicans had asked him to come and help them. On the way he read the poem which had just been published. Irving studied it, formulated a tune, hummed it and got the rhythm, and that evening at the Defiance meeting he sang the song for the first time. When he had finished and the last echoes had died away, men mounted their chairs with wild enthusiasm, swung their hats and broke loose in cheers that rang with feeling. He sang it again and again and they would scarcely let him rest.

The next night he sang the song at Fort Wayne and again aroused the same enthusiasm. He wrote out the music and sent it to the publisher who had handled what he had composed, with instructions to publish it on his usual terms of royalty. It was published and inside of a month more than 40,000 copies had been sold. In a few days the publisher failed, and Irving never received a dollar.—Exchange.

When perfumes are not disagreeable to a patient, it is well to use them freely in a sickroom, as they are a protection against contagion. It is said that if lavender water is sprayed through the living rooms of houses situated in a malarial locality it will prevent the occupants from contracting the disease.
